Hi Chidi,

Thanks for seeing me on Wed. I checked with the manufacturers and the baskets that we will attach to the concrete walls are no problem. The unit that would need to go into the dry wall would need to have a structural engineer involvement and sign off, this is why I suggested doing a roll away for that wall. We can discuss further details and options when I get back from the holiday's.

Units can come with side folds. Most side folds are not motorized because they are very easy to push to side. I do work with a manufacturer that has motorized units and have sent for pricing.

For budgetary reasons, installation of 5 wall mounted units and one rollaway unit (all 72" backboards, glass backboards) will run between $43,000 - $51,000.... based on layout and options. I can meet out on site when I get back and review the layout and write up final pricing.

I will be back in my office from the Holidays on Monday, Jan. 7th.

Thanks again and have a wonderful holiday.
